Companies of Tomorrow: e-commerce - apply for

Registration is underway for the next edition of Companies of Tomorrow - an intensive training and development program organized in cooperation with @Google, @PFR and @Operator Chmury Krajowej.

This year, as part of the program, 500 companies will be trained, aspiring to become leaders in the e-commerce industry, which will learn:

- how to increase revenues,
- improve the effectiveness of campaigns,
- gain a competitive advantage thanks to advanced knowledge and marketing tools.

During the 4-week intensive training, participants will meet the best specialists and specialists in the industry and take part in lessons, workshops and individual sessions, during which they will implement a plan for the accelerated development of their company on the Internet.

Leading experts in the marketing and e-commerce industry in Poland, authors of bestsellers, the best data analysts and owners of companies and marketing agencies, thanks to which your business has a chance to enter the next level of development, were invited to the program as speakers.

Apply until September 28, 2022, take part in the program and join the group of the best e-commerce companies on the market!

More details and registration at www.firmyjutra.pl

- Print
- PDF
- Share
- e-urzÄ d

all news