New opportunities for entrepreneurs in the

A new service has been introduced to the mObywatel application, which will significantly make life easier for entrepreneurs. The Company service enables convenient collection and management of business activity data and information about a registered company, which allows you to save time and better organize your work.

The Company service is addressed to people running sole proprietorships and is being introduced to the application gradually. The first users of mObywatela 2.0 will see it on Thursday, May 23, and it will be available to everyone until May 27, 2024.

In the mObywatel 2.0 application, the entrepreneur can:

- see information about your company and check its accuracy,
- copy selected data (e.g. NIP, REGON) and send it to the contractor,
- provide complete data for issuing an invoice via a channel of your choice (e.g. via text message, messenger, e-mail),
- download the CEIDG entry certificate in PDF format to your phone.

Quick exchange of information on business activities is particularly useful in business and official situations, such as providing invoice data or presenting a certificate of entry into CEIDG.

Additionally, the user can see the following statuses of their business activity:

- waiting to start â?? the planned date of starting the business will appear next to the status,
- active,
- suspended - the status will display the date of its last suspension, and if the entrepreneur has reported the resumption of business activity, a separate notification will appear with the date of the reported resumption of business activity.

In addition to address and contact details, the Company service also includes:

- PKD codes and additional PKD codes that define the area of â??â??â??â?? business activity,
- additional permanent places of business activity.
